

Lisa Gonzalez-Goetz

In eighteen years of practice, Lisa has focused entirely on the areas of Social Security and Long and Short Term disability law. Because of her knowledge in these practice areas, she has been hired as an expert witness in the field of disability in personal injury and workers' compensation cases. She is a graduate of the University of Florida and joined Marder, González & Goetz in 1992 after earning her law degree from Temple University.

She is a member of the Florida Bar Association, the Pennsylvania Bar Association, the National Organization of Social Security Claims Representatives and the Association of Trial Lawyers of America. Lisa is admitted to the United States District Court in the Southern District of Florida. Born in San Juan, Puerto Rico, she is fluent in English, Spanish and Italian.

We are proud of our commitment to consult on all issues involving social security benefits for spouses, widows and dependents.
